Important notes and FAQ's (Please read carefully):

- u The combine will be played on GRASS so please bring appropriate clothing and footwear.
- u Please bring PLENTY of water to keep hydrated during the event (the facility requests bottled water to be used on the Field, not sports drinks such as Gatorade etc)
- u If you arrive before registration, please do not enter the field - we will give you plenty of time to get warmed up before your game.
- u Players will be assigned positions based upon their registration form. If you would like to showcase yourself in a different position, please let a PSC staff member know, however, if you did not originally list it on your registration form we cannot guarantee it.
- u Over the course of the three days, if you are late for your assigned games, this will result in a reduction of playing time, please be sure to arrive on time.

What to Wear to the Tryout:

- u Black Shorts
- u Black Socks
- u Shin Guards (compulsory!)

Each player will be assigned to a team and issued a colored vest or jersey with a number on day one and will keep the same number for all three days.

Transport

- u Players are responsible for their own transport to and from the airport and fields. PSC has partnered with Uber to offer our combine participants the cheapest transportation available.
- u First-time users of the app will receive a free $5 towards their first ride to further reduce costs. UberX is 30% cheaper than a taxi and will take the stress out of traveling during the tryout.
- u Download the app today and use Promo Code: uberPSCSOCCER to redeem your free $5 ride.

What our Agency Staff, and attending coaches, are looking for?

Players often ask what the Agency staff are looking for in a player. First and foremost, we are looking for players who have technical, tactical and athletic ability to play at the professional level.

Following that, we are looking for players who display professional attitudes in terms of time-keeping, attitude on the field, attitude off the field, ability to work with fellow team-mates and respect shown to attending coaches and staff. Players who do not show the above will not be recommended to professional clubs by Agency staff.

How to Impress a coach at a Pro Soccer Tryout?

Players often ask us what they can do to stand out and catch the eye of attending coaches. It is a tough question to answer definitively, as football is a game of opinions and every coach looks for something different in the players they sign.

If you ask people for their top 5 players in the world and you will get a variety of answers. It is the same at a PSC combine as each of the coaches evaluating players will have a different opinion and be looking for different qualities in the players they see at a tryout.

However, we can certainly give players basic advice on do's and don'ts during the tryout based on what we have witnessed over the last 11 years of running try-outs. All of these have happened at previous events....

Ways to make a Bad Impression

- Turn up late
- Spend more time moaning at the referee than playing the game
- Get in to fights and arguments with players around you
- Get in to fights and arguments with coaches
- Text or email the coaches or staff asking for a ride to the fields
- Refuse to follow instructions given to you by the coach

Ways to make a good impression

- Work hard on the field both attacking and defending
- Follow instructions covered in this information pack
- Follow instructions given to you during the tryout by coaches and by PSC staff
- Arrive on time to the event
- Work well and co-operate with the players around you on the field
- Remember you are being judged for your character as much as your ability

What happens after the Tryout?

After the Tryout one of four outcomes will follow:

1. Selected to sign or trial with an attending club (can involve immediate travel to outside of USA so please be ready to accept an opportunity like that)
2. Recommended to trial or sign with a non-attending club through PSC Agency staff recommendation (can involve immediate travel to outside of USA so please be ready to accept an opportunity like that)
3. Considered for PSC's European Showcase where players will get to test themselves against professional opposition and showcase to further coaches around the world in a high-level professional environment.
4. Not considered ready for the professional level at this time and provided an individual feedback sheet with guidance direct from the coaches.

Players will be contacted by PSC staff within 14 days of the event informing them of their outcome. Regardless of outcome, EVERY player will be contacted via email so please be sure to add the domain name @pscltd.co.uk to your safe senders list or check your junk folder daily following the tryout.
